

Chai Lifeline is a leading international children's health support network, providing social, emotional, and financial assistance to children with life-threatening or lifelong illnesses and their families through a variety of free, year-round programs and services.

Our Mission

To bring joy and hope to children and families impacted by serious illness, crisis or loss.

A Community-Based Approach

As we transition to a (G-d willing) post-pandemic world, it is important to reflect and take note of the lessons COVID-19 has taught us. We all have our different takeaways, but for me, the past few years have underscored just how critical community is and how necessary that sense of belonging is in each of our lives.

For children and families confronting serious illness, crisis, or loss, life can be very lonely. Pandemic lockdowns, quarantines, and restrictions have only exacerbated that feeling of isolation. Undeterred by these limitations, Chai Lifeline rose to the challenge, providing support to nearly 6,000 families in 2021. We shifted our approach from the hospitals to the community—bringing our programs and services directly to our families, in innovative, impactful, and safe ways.

Our dedicated case managers and volunteers pivoted from hospital consultations to home-based and virtual visits. If a child could not travel to Camp Simcha, we brought Simcha to them through Camp Simcha Without Borders initiatives across our 12 regions. More than 800 children living with illness or loss in their families took part in i-Shine afterschool programs hosted in their local schools. In place of one national retreat for hundreds of families, we offered a series of weekend events targeting smaller, peer cohorts and fostering more meaningful relationships. When communities around the globe—from Meron, Israel to Surfside, Florida—were struck by catastrophic events, Project Chai crisis intervention teams mobilized to offer immediate mental health support and resources, reaching tens of thousands worldwide. As this report outlines, while our approach may have changed, our impact has strengthened.

Of course, none of this would be possible without you. Your generosity and friendship enable Chai Lifeline to build that community of support, helping families navigate the complex and lonely medical journey or cope with crisis and loss.

As I look to the future, I do so invigorated and inspired, knowing that together we will continue to transform lives for the better and bring joy and hope to those that need it most.

Rabbi Simcha Scholar, Chief Executive Officer

2021: The Year in the Review

In January, Chai Lifeline announced the appointment of Matthew Weisbaum as director of its Southeast region.

More than 400 participants around the world took part in Team Lifeline's first-ever virtual marathon in support of Chai Lifeline on January 31.

On February 1, Chai Lifeline welcomed Jack Tabbush as its inaugural director of Camp Simcha Without Borders.

After a blizzard devastated Texas in February, Chai Lifeline Southeast mobilized its volunteers to deliver Shabbos meals and care packages to families in the area.

Following the tragic crowd crush in Meron on April 30—the most devastating civilian disaster in Israel's history—Chai Lifeline's Project Chai crisis teams mobilized to provide mental health support, interventions, presentations, and educational resources to tens of thousands across the globe.

In the aftermath of the horrific June 24 condominium collapse in Surfside, Florida, the Project Chai team was on the ground, offering resources, guidance, and support to the local community.

Jack Tabbush leads Camp Simcha Without Borders

In summer 2021, more than 1,000 children impacted by serious illness took part in Simcha programming in cities across the globe.

On July 29, more than 600 cyclists took part in Bike4Chai, the world's largest experiential fundraiser per capita. One week later, on August 5, more than 100 women took part in Tour de Simcha.

In October, New Jersey

Governor Phil Murphy paid a visit to the new offices of Chai Lifeline NJ/PA in Lakewood, NJ.

More than 800 gathered to celebrate and support Chai Lifeline at its November 16 Annual Gala, featuring a musical performance by Ishai Ribo and a one-of-a-kind kosher culinary experience presented by Wolfgang Puck.

More than 1,200 children with serious illnesses and their families got into the Chanukah spirit with Chai Lifeline's first-ever Simcha Cruise on November 21. Chanukah parties and events were held in regions across the country and more than 50,000 toys were distributed as part of the Chai Lifeline's annual toy drive.

Chai Lifeline ended the year with a series of weekend retreats at Camp Simcha for families and volunteers, helping them reconnect and recharge for the year ahead.

"We are so grateful to Chai Lifeline for providing the critical tools, learning and process to our staff, as well as the staff of other disaster response teams and those who were providing support to first responders and victims of tragedy, for managing their own mental health and well-being in the aftermath of the Surfside towers collapse."

When the unthinkable happens, Project Chai, the crisis intervention, trauma, and bereavement department of Chai Lifeline is ready to respond. Project Chai offers support for children, families, schools, synagogues, and community organizations following an illness diagnosis, sudden death, terror attachk, natural disaster, and all forms of trauma.

Project Chai Services include:

- 24-hour / immediate support
- Clinical interventions
- Virtual and onsite consultations and workshops with schools, synagogues, and community organizations
- Educational resources and presentations for community leaders, rabbis, educators, and parents
- Weekend retreats
- Volunteer training in your community

Our paraprofessional volunteers are pre-screened and undergo rigorous training by leading experts, enabling them to respond immediately and effectively, with cultural sensitivity and respect. With hundreds of volunteers around the world, Project Chai teams are ready to respond immediately as crises unfold.

Memorable Summers Start with Simcha

Camp Simcha and Camp Simcha Special

For over 30 years, Camp Simcha and Camp Simcha Special, have lived up to their names by bringing joyful and meaningful summer memories for children with pediatric illness. Camp Simcha, named in memory of Dr. Samuel Abraham, was established in 1987 to bring fun and life-changing summer experiences for children battling cancer and other hematological illnesses. Camp Simcha Special, named in memory of Zvi Dovid Obstfeld, brings a positive, growth-oriented environment for children facing the challenges of serious chronic illness to be active and reach their fullest potentials. Through their fully accessible facilities, their dedicated staff and fun and confidence-building activities, Camp Simcha and Camp Simcha Special impacts many children and teens to grow, be inspired and live life to the fullest.

Camp Simcha Without Borders

Launched in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, Camp Simcha Without Borders was developed to bring the magic of Simcha to children and communities around the world. Camp Simcha Without Borders operates day camps and hosts special events in cities across the United States and across the globe, providing children who are unable to travel the opportunity to enjoy Simcha in their own hometowns. The program is open to Chai Lifeline clients and their siblings.

In 2021, more than 1,000 children took part in Camp Simcha Without Borders programming and special events in Baltimore, Chicago, Miami, Los Angeles, Lakewood, Deal, Monsey, Brooklyn, Long Island, Canada, England, and Israel.

By encompassing the true spirit of camp and creating an atmosphere that is full of joy and enthusiasm from the performing arts among campers and staff, Camp Simcha Without Borders provides an escape from reality for children going through tremendous hardships."

- Arianna Halpert, program coordinator at The Ralla Klepak Foundation for Education in the Performing Arts

Simcha: A Life-Changing Impact

In summer 2021, hundreds of campers, parents and staff were surveyed as part of an ongoing effort to improve services and offerings. The following results highlight the transformative nature of Camp Simcha and reflect its commitment to providing children with an unparalleled summer experience.

of parents were very satisfied with their child's medical care in camp

92% of campers said they strongly felt like they belong in camp

3 out of 4 campers reported feeling more independent because of camp

100% of campers said they wanted to return to camp

96% of staff said their experience at Camp Simcha made them more likely to volunteer in their community 97% of campers said all activities were very accessible

96% of counselors reported their camper's confidence grew over the summer

93% of parents said their child developed new friendships

"Due to her condition, my daughter could never have experienced sleepaway camp without Camp Simcha Special. There, she has joy and is well cared for... She makes friends with other sick kids, internalizing the empathetic values of tolerance and inclusivity as 'normal'-giving her strength to go home for the next year and face her illness. We as a family also get a break from the meds and the busy schedule. We have confidence she is ridiculously happy, and the other kids can get extra attention. The respite is great for everyone!"

- Tova, Baltimore, MD

"Camp boosted my son's confidence to become more independent even when it takes so much effort!"

- Shlomo, Brooklyn, NY

"Thank you for making my daughter feel like the luckiest girl in the world. Thank you for making her feel like she has a place all her own, where she gets to do whatever she wants with no limits. Thank you for giving our family two weeks to slow down our pace and be present with each other in a different way.

Thank you, thank you, thank you!"

- Rachel, Passaic, NJ

i-Shine After School Programming

Designed to meet the unique needs of elementary and middle school-aged children living with illness or loss in their families, i-Shine provides afterschool programming in a supervised, nurturing, and fun environment. The program pairs young participants with high school-aged mentors and counselors who provide homework assistance and tutoring, play games, and engage in sports and other recreational activities. Dinner, snacks, and transportation are provided. Learn more at www.chailifeline.org/ishine.

Watching how the high school students from our community invest their time in these children is so special. i-Shine was profoundly impactful on me and I would encourage everyone to get involved."

- Rabbi Shay Schechter, Rabbi and Rosh Beit Midrash at the Young Israel of Woodmere, NY

A Lifeline For The Entire Family

From the moment of diagnosis, Chai Lifeline is there to provide unparalleled support to young patients and their families through a variety of innovative services and programs. Coping with pediatric illness can be extremely difficult and isolating for the sick child, their parents, and siblings. The dedicated case managers serve as the family's portal to Chai Lifeline, helping the entire family navigate the complexities and uncertainties of the medical journey.

From counseling and crisis intervention to Big Brothers/Sisters activities and year-round family events and retreats, all of Chai Lifeline's programs and services are provided at no cost to families, allowing them to focus on what matters most-caring for their loved ones.

"Chai Lifeline is not an organization. It is a family!"

- Chai Lifeline father Steven, Chicago, IL
